We use allergens throughout the kitchen, many of our ingredients are labelled by the manufacturer/processor as 'may contain traces of...'

We don't have a separate guaranteed allergen free preparation area or dedicated utensils, pot & plate washing facilities or separate preparation staff.

Where you have the opportunity to serve yourself (usually at breakfast & lunch) please be aware that serving utensils may be transferred from one dish to another.

It is also possible that allergens may fall off one food onto another (nuts & seeds from bread for example)

Please ask serving staff for clarification that your food is safe before you start eating.
